Special Notice.

ABOUT TOWN.

The regular meeting of the Township Committee will be held next Wednesday evening.

The second anniversary of Bloomfield Lodge, No. 2,908, Knights of Honor, will be held at Metz's Hall, on Thursday evening.

A party was given by Miss Jennie Ward, on Monday evening, at the residence of her father, Edward Ward, on Beach street.

Bloomfield Lodge, No. 40, F. and A. M., will hold a regular communication on next Tuesday evening for work in the M. M. degree.

If you wish a good cigar at a low price, try "The Angler" or "Speckled Beauties," for sale at E. Marsh's drug store. They are very fine.

A sheet and pillow-case party was given on Wednesday evening by the History Society at the residence of Mr. Van Orden, on Dodd street.

A surprise party was given to Miss Haydock by her school scholars, last Friday evening at the residence of Rev. E. D. Simons, Ashland avenue.

The Rev. G. C. Seibert officiated at the German Presbyterian Church, Sunday morning, and Mr. G. V. Voss, of the Seminary, in the evening.

Mrs. S. W. Duffield has been summoned to her old home at Adrian, Mich., by the very serious condition of her father, who has been ill for some time.

Mr. E. H. Davey's pasteboard mill has closed, to put in a new machine, and on account of dullness in trade, it is stated, will not resume work for a month at least.

Temperance meetings are being held at Silver Lake Hall, conducted by gentlemen from that place and Bloomfield. Among them are Charles M. Squire and Joseph Maxwell.

The German Presbyterian parsonage, situated on Park avenue, adjoining the church, is now completed and presents a fine appearance. It will be occupied by the pastor in a short time.

After the services at the First Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning, the following elders for the coming year were elected: John G. Broughton, Joseph K. Oakes and William Colfax.

Rev. S. W. Duffield delivered an address on Tuesday evening before the Westminster Society of Young People on the "Experiences of a Christian Commissioner during the War of the Rebellion." It was listened to by a good audience, and contained much matter of interest.

Essex No. 1, the official organ, will be on sale at the Bazar. It will contain a complete history of the department, a sketch of the societies of the place, and considerable other interesting matter. It will consist of eight pages, and will be an excellent advertising medium.

Mr. A. J. Marsh, Chief of the B. F. A., acknowledges the receipt of $50.00 from Mr. John D. Slayback, in recognition of services rendered by the department at the fire in his house last week. The amount has been equally divided between the Bloomfield and Montclair departments.

Skating on Morris canal is now in excellent condition, and long distance races are daily made by the boys. Two young men started together to Richfield, a distance of several miles, which was made in forty-five minutes. The pleasure of one was spoiled by a cold bath before his return.

A surprise was tendered Miss Anna Eosson last night, at the residence of Mr. George Fornoff, on Canal street, by the Ladies Aid Society, of the German Presbyterian Church, it being her twenty-third birthday. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Miss Eosson is one of the leading workers in the society.

Back this week has a squib as follows: "Why we laugh" is a subject that has been discussed in a more or less scholarly manner. We don't pretend to be able to give a solution of the problem ourselves, but we know why the wicked residents of a certain little suburban town are laughing just now, and it is because some burglars recently broke into the residence of a recognized temperance champion, and stole an overcoat and a couple of bottles of whiskey." Is that "certain little suburban town" Bloomfield; and, if so, why so?

Mrs. Franklin D. Pine was highly delighted with the rapidity of action shown by the "fire laddies," in putting their apparatus in position on Wednesday, in answer to the alarm from her residence, and although they hadn't the opportunity to fight much fire this time, still their willingness to do, deserves her hearty thanks which she hereby most gratefully tenders.

The heavy rain on Monday night caused a rapid rise in the water of Oakes' pond. At three o'clock Tuesday morning the night watchman blew the factory whistle and called out the men to assist him in raising the gates. No damage was done to the dam, although for a time it was feared trouble would be experienced before the water could be released. The overflow from the aqueduct added greatly to the volume of water.

The reverend pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart has anticipated the date he was to have given his entertainment to Tuesday evening, February the 17th. His first intention was for Washington's Birthday, but in deference to the Hook and Ladder Bazar he has transferred to the date above given. There will be a farce, "The Mischievous Darkey," to be followed by a minstrel performance. The programme is a good one, and will be excellently rendered by the young ladies and gentlemen who take part.

Last Wednesday evening, Phoenix Hose Co., No. 1 was presented by Mr. J. M. Bancroft and E. G. Westlake, with a very fine map, showing the location of every fire hydrant in the township. It was drawn by the above named gentlemen, after a very careful inspection and survey, and is an exceedingly appropriate and useful gift, and is very highly appreciated by the company. A vote of thanks was unanimously tendered, as also to Mr. L. R. Chew, who very kindly framed the map without expense to the company. An invitation is extended to the citizens of our township to visit the Hose house at any time, where they may examine the same.

A special committee from W. S. Pierpont Post, No. 58, G. A. R., visited the Bloomfield cemetery last Sunday afternoon for the purpose of locating the graves of all the deceased soldiers who have been interred there, so that suitable headstones may mark their resting places. The graves of twenty deceased comrades were discovered which have not been previously marked, and there are others which will be traced out as soon as Mr. Peloubet, of the Cemetery Company, who has the required information, is able to confer with the Post. Two soldiers of the war of 1812 are interred there and will be reported to the Government with those of the late war. John H. Cockeair, acting adjutant, has charge of the investigation and desires friends and relatives of late soldiers to acquaint him with any facts relating to the burial place and the companies in which they served. On the evening following Washington's birthday the Post will hold a masquerade ball at Raab's Assembly Rooms, on Bloomfield avenue.

Roller Skating.

Prof. Walter Claypoole gave an exhibition of fancy and trick roller skating last Wednesday evening, at Bloomfield Roller Skating Rink, in Catholic Union Hall, which was very fine. He is undoubtedly master of the art. The rink has lately been started by Messrs. Stoner and Cardwell, both Bloomfield young men and should be patronized by the townspeople, as we think that home enterprise should be supported. The rink is well lighted, well floored, and the proprietors offer special attractions every week. The charges are small in comparison with those in other places, the admission being only fifteen cents, and skates the same price. Saturday afternoons ladies are admitted free. The proprietors reserve the afternoons for ladies and children, and whoever attends will be treated courteously. We wish them success and hope that the Bloomfielders will help them succeed in their enterprise.

Westminster Entertainments.

The Westminster Society of Young People has arranged a course of six entertainments, the first of which was a lecture given by Mr. Duffield Tuesday evening, the subject being his experience in the United States Christian Commission during a few weeks of the Summer of 1864. In a very few minutes, with the aid of a diagram drawn on a blackboard, he gave the young people a clear idea of the position of Gen. Grant's army at City Point, of the Christian Commission at Bermuda Hundred, of the Federal line of batteries to the north with the rebel line adjoining, and of the city of Richmond and intermediate stations. The description of life in the Commission's camp, with their cook, William, half negro, half Indian, a thief, a liar, and mostly drunk, with a close, hot atmosphere of 104 degrees in the tent, the only breeze coming from the north, a spicy balmy odor directly from the embalmers' tent, was vivid in the extreme. The position of the young, earnest Christian Commissioner, however, as errand-goer, water-carrier, and general express messenger between the several points on the Appomattox river was hardly an enviable one. The lecture abounded in anecdotes and quaint word pictures, many of which caused the audience to laugh heartily, as when the lecturer described a dose of an immense, spoonful of blackberry cordial, peppermint, capicum and Jamaica ginger, he gave to a man who was sick. One dose made the patient hot, but he returned for the second, and then vanished, not to be seen again for years by his would be physician, who in the meantime was fearful lest the frightful mixture had caused his sudden decease.

The description of listening at the mouth of the river for the Fourth of July salute of guns from the line of batteries, and of the view through a telescope from a signal tower at the lines of Richmond and the enemy's quarters, was very effective, and the lecture closed with the impression that an account of an eventful three weeks' life had been condensed into an unusually short hour.

The next lecture will be given by Dr. Wilson, Tuesday, March 3d. These entertainments are for the benefit of the society, but outsiders who so desire can attend by paying a small admission fee.
